PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Motivated and detail-oriented aspiring data scientist with hands-on experience in tracking datasets, auditing project workflows, and studying real-world problems using digital tools. Currently enrolled in a structured data science program through ALX Africa and pursuing a B.Sc. in Data Science. Gained practical knowledge in SQL, Excel, Python, and Power BI to support data-driven decision-making. Completed internships in project operations and software testing where I developed strong problemsolving, collaboration, and reporting skills. Committed to continuous learning, ethical service, and contributing to data-centric innovation in the public sector.
